Thin Blue Line Charity Patches and Badges

Tuesday, 17 February 2015

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Care Of Police Survivors (COPS) was recently made aware that UK COP Humour¹ had produced a charity patch and pin badge featuring a subdued Union Flag with a Thin Blue Line running through the centre. We were informed that they would kindly donate a portion of the proceeds from every sale to COPS

COPS is an independent charity supporting the families of police officers who lose their lives on duty throughout the UK. Police officers support numerous charities and each individual police force has, by necessity, it's own uniform policy in relation to charity badges and wristbands etc.

We appreciate the support of UK COP Humour, all those who have purchased a patch or pin and the on going support of individual police forces. We also respect that any decisions regarding acceptable standards for the wearing of charity emblems is a matter for individual police forces in conjunction with their local staff associations.

COPS President, Denis Gunn said; 'Care Of Police Survivors is independent of the police service and is funded through charitable donations from individual forces, members of the police family and the general public. We are extremely grateful to all of those who raise funds to allow us to help rebuild shattered lives.'
